Local Boys Victors in Fourth Consecutive Game of Season—King, Vanheiser and Haynes Stars

MIDDLESBORO BOYS OUT-WEIGH OPPOSING TEAM

Harlan high school suffered defeat at the hands of the Middlesboro eleven on their grid yesterday afternoon by a score of 10 to 0. The Harlan boys fought a hard game, but M. H. S. had them outclassed and had a much heavier team. Carroll and Rogers starred for Harlan, while King, Vanheiser and Haynes starred for M. H. S. According to Coach Kihparick the Middleboro team should have defeated the Harlan team by a much larger margin. There were several arguments during the game which did little, except cause the spectators to make a good deal of unnecessary noise, which resulted in a handicap to both teams.

The game, play by play, follows: Harlan won the toss and elected to receive defending the south goal. King kicked to Harlan's 10-yard line as a starber. Harlan 10 return. Harlan first down 20 yard line. Five through right tackle. Fifteen loss on left end run. Punted 20. King returned five. Middleboro ball 30 yard line. King made three through left guard. Faulkner 3 through right guard. King no gain through left tackle. Middleboro penalized five yards off side. Vanheiser seven around left end. Harlan's ball, 25 yard line. Eight yards on a fake over right tackle. No gain around left end. Made first down over right tackle. Lost two around left end. Made two on left end, criss-cross. Middleboro penalized 15, interference with a player catching pass. Harlan first down. No gain through center. Failed at right end run. Punted 25. Middleboro first down on 24 yard line. King three through left guard. Faulkner six through right tackle. Vanheiser 25 right end run. First down 17 yard line. Faulkner made first down through right tackle. King two through right tackle. King two through right guard. Vanheiser made a 25 yard pass to Clifton. Clifton made a touchdown and King kicked goal. M. H. S. 7, H. 0.

King kicked 50. Harlan returned 15. Harlan first down on 25 yard line. Lost two one left end run. Quarter up. Second Quarter—Harlan gained five around left end. Made first down through left tackle. Failed at right end run. Faulkner intercepted forward pass. Middleboro ball, 15 yard line. King made first down through center. Faulkner four off right tackle. King five over left guard. Faulkner made first down through center. Vanheiser three through right tackle. Faulkner failed through left tackle. Pass grounded. King drop kicked from 17 yard line. M. H. S. 10, H. 0.

King out. Brown in. Brown kicked 20. Harlan returned 5. Harlan first down 55 yard line. Lost seven on attempted forward pass. Made five around right end. Completed 20 yard pass. Time out for Middlesboro. Harlan lost five through left tackle. Failed through left tackle. Vanheiser intercepted pass return five. Middleboro first down 45 yard line. Made eight on short pass from Vanheiser to Faulkner. Faulkner no gain through left tackle. Vanheiser made first down through center. Pass grounded. Quarter up; end of first half.

Third Quarter—Harlan kicked 50. Vanheiser returned 10. Pass grounded. Faulkner made two through left guard. Vanheiser six through center. Brown punted 35. Harlan ball on 30 yard line. Made ten through right tackle. Made seven through right tackle. Failed through left tackle. No gain on fake over right tackle. Completed pass for 15. Harlan first down 18 yard line. MUCH INTEREST IN
PRIMARY TODAY

Large Votes Cast for Commissioner Candidates—Campaigners Busy All Day

An unprecedented interest in a primary election, is being shown in Middlesboro today, excitement prevailing not only at the polls but all over town. Almost two thousand voters had been to the polls by 2:30 o'clock, an unusually large vote for primaries, too. Giles, Allison and Manning, with their friends, have been actively campaigning the streets all day, passing out cards and soliciting votes. The others were getting their share of voters, however, and the race seemed so close that no one was certain at any time who would stay in the race or who would be eliminated. Polls close at 4 o'clock.

Heroism of Chief Gunner Bradley, U. S. N., during the landing of Uncle Sam's naval forces at Vera Cruz in 1914, went by virtually unnoticed for more than nine years. But recognition finally came the other day. Bradley was awarded the Congressional medal of honor, the highest award his country can give.

MANY CONCERTS GRANT PEEP AT OPERA STARS FOR FIFTY CENTS

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 20.—This city has gone into the impresario business. It is staging a series of concerts, featuring one of the world's highest priced operatic and concert stars—And 50 cents will buy a reserved seat!

For 50 cents, Clevelanders will be able to hear John McCormack, Mary Garden or any of a number of other stars who have thrilled audiences the world over.

All this is brought about through the efforts of Lamont G. Dickey, manager of Cleveland's public auditorium.

Dickey's Dream
Dickey dreamed a dream of filling Cleveland's vast auditorium—a hall capable of seating 12,500 persons—with great audiences, while world-famous singers and musicians poured out their golden notes for a price within reach of everyone.

He fought a fight against precedent—against a veritable trust. Concert managers told him it had never been done, that it was impossible.

That was his fight—a fight for the people.

And this is the announcement of his victory:

"The city of Cleveland presents—

John McCormack, Mary Garden, John Charles Thomas, Frances Alda and $5.00—singing tickets 50 cents up."

Last year all the contents of any worth were put on by professional impresarios. They were forced to guarantee fixed sums. They were left very little profit.

Dickey, who spent years in the Chautauque business and the concert game before he assumed the management of Cleveland's mammoth auditorium, believed that plan was all wrong.

He had no fight against local producers; he carried his battle to New York. And he won!

No Guarantee
McCormack, Garden and the others come here without any guarantee. They get their percentage of the ticket sales. Dickey handles the scaling of his ticket prices.

And that's not all. To prove that he has no intention of hurting the business of Cleveland's professional impresarios, Dickey insisted that all concert stars coming to Cleveland's auditorium under the management of local producers give the same term to the individual promoters as they would have to give the city.

Thus Cleveland, through Dickey's endeavors, is in a fair way to enjoy a large quota of choice entertainment at prices heretofore thought impossible. Anybody may buy the tickets. There is no club membership such as some other institutions require. The highest priced season ticket costs no more than a single grandstand seat at a world series.

Real Stars

This is Dickey's program:
Oct. 28—John McCormack and a violinist.

Nov. 25—Mary Garden and Guthrie Casini, cellist.

Dec. 16—John Charles Thomas, baritone; the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra and Clarence Versey, violinist.

Dec. 30—Metropolitan Quartet with Frances Alda, soprano; Charles Mackintosh, tenor; Renato Zanetti, baritone, and one other artist, in addition to the Cleveland Symphony, itself worth the price of admission.

"They don't like me in New York," says Dickey. "In fact, they hate me like poison, I'm afraid."

But they think pretty well of Dickey in Cleveland. The public auditorium, built by the taxpayers, was dedicated to the people's use. And Dickey is doing a good job of dedicating.

FINISH FOUNDATION
U. OF K. BUILDING

Brick Work on Basketball Auditorium Starts Next Week—Done by Jan. 1

The large force of concrete workers who have been at work on the foundation for the new University of Kentucky basketball auditorium will have finished their labors by Saturday and will be supplanted by a force of more than twenty brick layers who will rush the job to completion as soon as humanly possible.

The foundation, which is made of gray concrete, reinforced with steel is a masterpiece in concrete architecture in which beauty is combined with sturdiness. The outside surface is finished to have the appearance of blocks which grow, as is to the general appearance of the structure.

Contracts will be let early this week for the brick work and the entire building should be ready for use not later than January 1. It is understood that the first $100,000 collected by the Stadium Committee will be applied to the payment of the basketball building but other plans are on foot now to raise the remaining $1,500,000 necessary to meet the additional cost of the building. The Athletic Council has agreed to turn over the net receipts from the basketball games this year to the building fund. This promises to be a very profitable source of funds, for the crowds at the games this year should be far in excess of those of any previous years.

A grand total of $185,000 has been pledged to the Stadium Fund with additional subscriptions from the Alumni of New York, Denver, Pittsburgh, Chicago and other cities being received every day. Louisville will start this month on a drive to raise $15,000 in that city.

The provision of the Eighteenth Amendment, the President said and its complementary statutes are "perfectly plain in the directions they give both to the President and governors of the states; he added, "the country ought to comprehend when laws have been made, there can be no question about the duty of executives to enforce them with such instruments, and by such means as the law provides for securing enforcement."

N. Y. Police Commissioner Says Also He Has Main Evidence in Keenan Mystery

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The lover of Joseph B. Elwell and of Dorothy King Keenan, victims in two of New York's most baffling unsolved mysteries, known to the police, according to the Police Commissioner Enright but the evidence is insufficient to warrant arrests.

Elwell, sportsman and bridge expert, was slain in his apartment one night in May, 1920, after he had been host at a roof garden atop one of the city's most noted hotels.

Dorothy Keenan, Broadway "butterfly" was slain in her apartment off Fifth Avenue last March. Speaking over the radio on "police problems," Mr. Enright said:

"In these unsolved cases one looks are not closed until the last principal involved is dead. About the Elwell and the Dorothy King mysteries many of these cases are not mysteries to the police department. The murderers are known but we have been unable to get the one per cent additional legal evidence to make arrests."

CHEAP AUTO GOGGLES MADE OF OLD WAR GAS MASKS

By Associated Press.

PARIS, Oct. 20.—Automobile goggles advertised for sale for ten times each or a little over 170 to the dollar at the present rate of exchange, recently brought a rushing business to a second hand store on the left bank of the Seine, and caused much speculation as to how, in these days, any manufacturer could place such an article on the market at the derisive price.

A former pilot solved the riddle. The goggles had been cleverly cut out from the original gas masks issued hurriedly to the French army when gases made their appearance on the western front as a weapon of war. One model, is was recalled, was cumbersome and inefficient, but the pilots had to put up with it for nearly a year, until the improved models was manufactured.

The second hand shopkeeper had discovered several thousands of them in the war stocks and bought them by the hundred weight.

STRONG APPEAL FOR DAWSON IS MADE BY MOORE

Madisonville Attorney Contrasts the Straight-forward Stand of Republican With Fields Evasions on Major Issues

SAYS DAWSON'S ONLY FAULT
HE WAS ONCE A DEMOCRAT

One of the most interesting and convincing political speakers that Middlesboro has had in some time was here last night in the person of Virgil Y. Moore, young Madisonville attorney, who addressed a fair-sized audience at the city hall in the interest of Charles L. Dawson, Republican candidate for governor. Mr. Moore is a very clever speaker and while he indulged in some wit at the expense of Mr. Dawson's opponent, he did not let sarcasm or witicism overshadow the sound logic of his arguments.

Mr. Moore contrasted at some length the straight-forward manner in which Mr. Dawson had asserted his stand on all the major issues in Kentucky, with the evasive attitude of "Tell-'em-nothin' Bill," as he characterized the Democratic candidate, Mr. Fields.

He told of Mr. Dawson's promise to reappoint the present State Board of Charities and Corrections which has proved so satisfactory during their present term and showed that Mr. Fields had only promised to reappoint them "if it pleased him." He showed that Dawson had promised to reappoint the present splendid State Tax Commission, a matter on which Fields would take no stand. He told of Dawson's firm stand opposing the coal tonnage tax, regarding which Mr. Fields has made no promise, and Dawson's statement that he would sign the parliament repeal, if passed, on which issue, too, Mr. Fields was evasive.

On only two matters, declared Mr. Moore, has Fields taken a stand, one when he introduced a bill into Congress five years ago to recognize Dr. Cook as the discoverer of the North Pole, and once, more recently, when he stated he would appoint the big Louisville banker, James Brown, chairman of the State Tax Commission. Mr. Moore then told of Brown's extensive interests in state corporations, particularly in banks, as he is president of Louisville's largest bank, and quoted Brown's stand on raising farm and city property taxes and lowering bank taxation.

Mr. Moore also criticized the method by which Fields was nominated, saying that he was not the choice of the Democrats of the state, but of a few party politicians who were anxious to see Kentucky lack in the Democratic ranks, with partisanship reinstated in every commission and appointment.

Back to Dawson again, Mr. Moore said the only criticism the Democrats had even been able to make of the Republican candidate was that he used to be a Democrat. The speaker said he didn't think that was a crime as he knew lots of good enough Democrats, but that, if it was as bad as the Democrats made out, Fields ought to be put in the penitentiary as he had been a Democrat for life and never had repented.

Finally Mr. Moore made an appeal to Bell county voters to stand by Mr. Dawson as their own candidate, a man from their own county. "I doubt if you realize that you have given Kentucky one of the biggest men who has served her officially for generations," declared the speaker, and one of the best attorney generals the state has ever had. By his first official act he saved Kentucky $100,000 by the discharge of lawyers hired by Governor Stanley to do the attorney general's work, and that, by winning the case in which they were dismissed he collected for Kentucky's treasury $4,000,000.

"He served the state wisely and well," went on Mr. Moore, "and placed the crossbar on all his splendid official undertakings when he went to the Court of Appeals with an attack on the outrageous Simmons Highway bill designed to make our good roads program the football for politics."

Mr. Moore closed with an appeal to Kentuckians to vote for a Kentuckian who had a proud record behind him and promised a real service to the state, rather than one, the candidate of party politics, stood unpledged on any issue, evidently with his mind still undecided on any of the major issues. H. C. Chappell introduced the speaker with an appeal to Bell county voters to stand by Dawson, a Bell county man.

In An Old Garden

The wistful wind sighs through the willow trees,
Dreaming of hours when long-gone lovers kept,
Between this sweet old garden's boundaries,
Tryst 'neath their boughs, as soft the twilight seep.
When crinolines swayed down each blossomed lane,
And light steps brushed 'gainst rose-mary and rue,
As dames, no mortal eyes may see again
Heardkened to Love's low pledges to be true.
Where do they wander now? Ah, well, who knows
But when the garden's once more sweet with May,
They breathe again the fragrance of the rose
And harken to the dinner's roundelay.

What To Serve at Tea Time

Perhaps you are to "have" the sewing club next week some afternoon. Of course your first thought is "what shall I serve?"

These recipes may be a bit different or else so old they seem new to you. Just because a dish is old is no reason to condemn it.

If you would drink cocoa in place of tea try dropping a marshmallow cut in halves in each cup. You'll like it and it saves fussing with whipped cream at the last minute.

Maraschino cherries are quite as good in hot tea as cold lemonade.

How would you like a frozen salad, sandwiches, salted nuts, tea and bonbons instead of ice cream and cake?

Or these little marmalade rolls, tea or cocoa, baked ice cream and salted nuts may appeal to you.

Frozen Salad

One pint canned tomatoes, 1 cup water, 1 cup Kometfort cheese, 2 cups whipping cream, 1 small onion, 2 stalks celery, 4 tablespoons tomato catsup, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1-8 teaspoon soda, 1 tablespoon granulated gelatine, 1 teaspoon salt, pepper.

Put tomatoes, onions, celery and water in a smooth sauce pan. Stew 20 minutes. Rub through a fine sieve. Add catsup, sugar, salt, pepper and soda. Soften gelatine in four tablespoons cold water. Dissolve in boiling tomato purge. Let stand until gelatine begins to set. Mash cheese and work in enough cream to make smooth. Whip remaining cream and combine with cheese. Fold into tomato mixture. Pour into a mold and freeze in four parts ice to one part salt for two or three hours. Serve on crisp leaves of head lettuce with or without French dressing.

The merit of this salad is that it's ready to serve without any mixing when wanted.

Brown bread sandwiches, toasted or plain, are delicious with this salad.

Marmalade Rolls

Three cups flour, 3 tablespoons butter, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, water orange or grapefruit marmalade, 1-2 cup chopped English walnuts.

Mix and sift flour, salt and baking powder. Work in butter with tips of fingers. Cut in water with a knife, using enough water to make as soft a dough as can be handled. Roll on a well floured board. Make the sheet oblong as to shape and not more than one-half inch thick. Spread with softened butter, marmalade and sprinkle with nuts. Roll up like a jelly roll and cut in inch slices. Bake 15 minutes in a hot oven.

These can be made and cut, placed in the pans and kept in a rather cool place until ready to bake and serve. They should be served warm and fresh from the oven.

Baked Ice Cream

Make a rich pie crust and bake in small deep individual pans. Prick the dough many times on the bottom and around the flare to prevent bulking while baking. Chill the shells thoroughly after baking. Fill shell three-quarters full of finely frozen ice cream. Cover with meringue. The meringue must completely cover the cream. It should be about one-fourth inch thick and fit closely along the pie crust. Put under the flame in a gas stove to brown or in a very hot oven. Serve at once.

To make the meringue allow two tablespoons of sugar to each egg white. Beat white until stiff and dry on a platter with a wire whisk. Beat in sugar. Three egg whites should be enough for 16 tiny "pies."

The ice cream is also baked in one large deep pie shell and cut like ordinary pie.

Pie Crust

Two cups flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-4 cup butter, 1-4 cup lard, cold water.

Wash butter in cold water to remove salt and buttermilk and to make it easy to handle. Mix and sift salt and flour. Work in lard with tips of fingers. Add very cold or ice water to make a stiff dough. Put on a floured molding board and roll into a oblong sheet about one-quarter inch thick. Put the butter which has been made into a flat oblong pat in the center of the lower half of the pastry. Fold upper half over butter. Fold lower half over enclosed butter and upper half under. Pat and roll out to one-fourth inch thickness.

Fold in thirds and roll out again. Keep lifting and dredging board with flour to prevent sticking. Fold in thirds and roll out the second time. Use as desired.

SAVED SICK SPELLS

Black-Draught Found Valuable by a Texas Farmer, Who Has Known Its Usefulness Over 30 Years.

Naples, Texas.—"I have used Thedford's Black-Draught for years—I can safely say for more than 30 years," declares Mr. H. H. Cromer, a substantial, well-known farmer, residing out from here on Route 3.

"I am 43 years old, and when a small boy I had indigestion and was puny and my folks gave me a liver regulator. Then Black-Draught was advertised and we heard of it.

"I began to take Black-Draught, and have used it, when needed, ever since. I use Black-Draught now in my home, and certainly recommend it for any liver trouble.

"I have given it a thorough trial, and after thirty years can say Black-Draught is my stand-by. It has saved me many sick spells."

Mr. Cromer writes that he is "never out of Black-Draught," and says several of his neighbors prefer it to any other liver medicine. "I always recommend Black-Draught to my friends," he adds.

This valuable, old, powdered liver medicine is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, and has none of the bad effects so often observed from the use of calomel, or other powerful mineral drugs. Be sure to get the genuine, Thedford's.

WEDDING VOWS HOLD JAILED WIFE TRUE TO GALLOWS-DOOMED MATE

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 17.—On the magic of those words: "Soft words, kind words."

Pledged in devout ritual before matrimony's sacred shrine, they breathed an inexorable something into the memory of Mrs. Mabel Champion here, which neither paller of her prison cell nor faith broken by an erring mate doomed to the gallows' noose in a California jail can lose.

"For better or for worse," "Till death do us part," she promised seven long years ago in reply to the priest's chant which echoed about her bridal spirit like a fragrant chain, and joined her forever to Ausley E. Champion, the man to whom she made her early flush of her first love.

Today, though separated in a continent, and each branded a felon from the eyes of man, for different crimes and in different prisons, Mrs. Champion still continues firm in her faith to the husband who deserted her in her hour of need to let her stand alone and face the law which meted out 20 years of punishment on a manslaughter verdict.

The 14 months of her confinement while awaiting preliminary examination and trial for the death of Thomas O'Connell, whom she shot down during a brawl in a downtown Cleveland restaurant, have left their traces in smudged features and a haggard look on the once girlish face.

But from the dreariness of her solitude she continues to wireless on the wings of love messages of confidence and sympathy to the man of her choice awaiting the congn penalty in Los Angeles for the murder of James Goble, alleged by the state to have been slain in a dice game.

Fate, Mrs. Champion considers, has followed in her path like an evil wake ever since the day she bowed before the altar of marriage and became one with Ausley.

"I knew him since I was a tiny tot in pigtails," she says. "And I loved him. God, how I loved him."

"He turned the magic key of love in my heart. And the whole world opened as a fairytale when he asked me to become his wife."

"Nothing can ever make me turn from my husband. I know him better than the police can ever hope to. He is not bad. Just weak. Drunk was his evil. It cursed him whenever he let it blot out his real friends."

"And as for the charge against him out there—" she gestured with a limping of her hand toward the west—"such a thing would have been impossible for him. Because I was with him in a southern city on the day they say he murdered the man they say he did."

"No, I'm not receding anything. What's done is beyond recall. I've killed a man, too. But I do not regret it."

MRS. MABEL CHAMPION

greet it. He invited me and all women without cause. I never saw him before. Then, when my husband objected to the language he was using he tried to beat Ausley in the head with a chair.

"An angel would have done no more than to come to the rescue of her mate lying helpless on the floor with a big ruffian standing over him ready to kill."

"And besides I didn't mean to shoot him. But it was the dead man's life or my husband's. And in the scuffle the gun I somehow got hold of, went off. That's all there is. I've had plenty of time to think it over—here in this human quagmire."

"But don't think I'm looking for pity. For what's happened is done. I've grown reconciled. This prison has opened my eyes. It has been an education."

RAILROADS DESPAIR AT RECKLESSNESS OF MOTORING PUBLIC

By Associated Press.
TOPEKA, Kan., Oct. 20.—Railway crossing accidents, increasing at an average rate of 100 per cent a year, represent one of the most serious problems now confronting American railroads, according to Isaiah Hale, of Topeka, chairman of the safety section of the American Railway Association which comprises virtually all the railway companies in the United States. "The railroads are convinced that within their own organizations, safety first education gets results. Deaths of employees on duty have been reduced from 4,354 in 1907 to 1,446 in 1921. This result has been achieved notwithstanding the much larger force of employees during the year 1921."

"In 50 years our country's population has increased 68 per cent. In that same period railroad highway crossing accidents have increased 245 per cent, and injury cases 652 per cent. These disproportionate increases are due entirely to the use of the automobile. In five years 9,101 persons were killed and 24,208 injured at railway highway crossings in the United States."

"The fact is that at least 50 per cent of automobile drivers do not look both ways upon approaching a railroad crossing has been demonstrated in a number of tests conducted along the Santa Fe Railroad recently," Mr. Hale pointed out. A count made at a city crossing produced the following results: Out of 250 cars checked, drivers of 98 did not look in either direction; 49 looked on the right only; 17 looked to the left only; one stopped and looked in both directions; and 78 looked each way without stopping.

Instances of automobiles being driven into a passing train are almost as common as those in which the automobile is struck by a train, Mr. Hale declared. A typical list compiled by the Pennsylvania Railroad shows an increase of 119 per cent in crossing fatalities in July this year as compared with July a year ago.

FARM CROPS SUFFER FROM LACK OF RAIN

A warm and favorable week was favorable for eating tobacco and harvesting late hay, but late crops and recently sown grain suffered from the lack of moisture. In the western counties no rain of consequence has occurred for three weeks, and the soil has become so dry that wheat sowing has been hindered. Germination will be delayed unless rain comes soon. Wheat that was sown two weeks ago is generally up, but needs rain badly. The growth of rye, sown for pasture or cover crops, has been checked by the dry weather. Late corn matured slowly, but it is now generally safe from frost in the western counties. Growth of late crops practically ceased in the northern counties, with the frost of last week. Early corn dried out so rapidly that much of it is ready for gathering. A small amount has been gathered in the southwestern counties and in the Magalloway region, mostly for immediate feeding.

The late potato crop has been reduced by the continued dry weather. Some fields in the central and western counties would still be helped by rain, but most of the crop has completed its growth. Market gardens continue in fair condition. Late vegetables are very much in need of rain. Pastures are generally short, and in some places stock water is becoming scarce. Late pea, bean, and alfalfa hay, left in shocks to finish curing, dried out nicely. Late hay is usually fine, due to the continued dry weather and abundant sunshine which have caused it to cure perfectly.

Your Health

Health in Golf
No out-of-door exercise, such as golf, tennis, cricket, rowing or riding, has ever killed anyone except through accident. I have been a golf player for the past 15 years and as a physician can testify to its great health-building qualities.

What a real surprise you would get if someone should say—"Don't go out and play golf, it may kill you." Yet we are continually hearing this advice, in one way and another, from those who should know better.

The death of A. R. Smith, secretary of Dover College, England, while playing golf, has been made the subject of much newspaper comment on both sides of the ocean. It is not right to exaggerate such events. It scares a lot of old fellows out of their only fun in life. Golf wasn't to blame at all, but something else in body condition, that golf helps to overcome every day.

Mr. Smith was 65 years of age. The broadcaster at once gave out this query—"At what age should golfers quit the game?" John D. is almost 80 and still at it. It might just as well be asked, at what age should we begin?

No definite information or statistics are available, on the age of golf players, in the hundreds of clubs in this country. The only statistics we have, is that thousands are greatly benefited every day by this open-air exercise. To say that arteriosclerosis (hardening of the arteries) has progressed so far, at 60, that golf club swinging is dangerous—is pure bunk.

The fact is, there is much co-ordination between mind and muscles in this wonderful game. The leg muscles are strengthened, also those of the abdomen, back and shoulders. The ankles, which often stiffen up a bit at 50—are kept free and supple by stretching and turning. While the strokes, hazards and distances kept in mind interested.

A new club has recently been formed in Chicago, limiting its membership to those over 50, over 100 signed up the first week.

PREMIER'S OLD SWEETHEART WITNESSES HIS TRIUMPH

Associated Press
ROME, Oct. 20.—The commune of Predappio, where Premier Mussolini was born, recently acquired the house of his birth and gave it to him. He was present at the ceremony, and the people welcomed him deliciously.

In the crowd was a woman still unmarried who, years ago, said to Mussolini as he wooed her with the impetuosity of youth: "We are both as poor as poor can be, and if we married we would only bring into the world beings equally poor to suffer and wail. It is better that we agree to part." "By all means," replied Mussolini, and went his way to become prime minister.

FEDERATION OF MUSIC CLUBS WANTS STILL HIGHER CULTURAL STANDARDS

By Associated Press.

PEORIA, Ill., Oct. 23.—Promoting still higher cultural standards in music, following the organization's decision to inaugurate a four-year course of study on the understanding and appreciation of music, the National Federation of Music Clubs, through its more than 1,900 chapters in the United States, "has taken another step in the right direction," according to Helen Harrison Mills, national chairman of publicity headquarters here.

An outline of the course is being prepared for distribution by Mrs. Frank A. Sothering of Akron, Ohio, chairman of the department, the announcement said, and will be designed especially for adoption by church societies on the large clubs mainly interested in presenting afternoon or evening recitals. Special honors will be given clubs completing two years of the course at the Portland, Oregon, biennial in 1925, and greater recognition paid to those finishing the entire four-year course at the 1927 biennial.

Special emphasis in the organization's work is to be placed upon the plan to give the American musical art the same footing with foreign artists on the concert programs sponsored by the music clubs. The federation at its last convention resolved to engage at least fifty per cent American artists in the future.

Another field of musical endeavor was opened in the decision to institute a department of music in industry, with Miss Ruth Antoinette Sabat, head of the Bureau of Industrial Music, in charge.

Instructions to each of the units urging them to redouble their efforts to obtain legislation looking toward the establishment of a National Conservatory of Music, have been issued according to the announcement, and also that the federations' committee on legislation continue to seek the active cooperation of all other national associations toward this end.

Steps have already been taken to have a simplified bill introduced in congress to provide for the appointment of a commission of 25 persons representing all classes and phases of music in order that when the Conservatory is organized it will be broadly democratic.

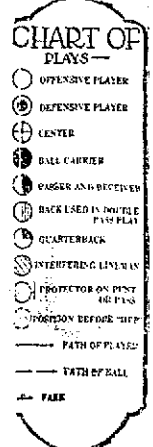

CANADIAN FARMER, PLOWING, FINDS PRE-GLACIAL RELIC

By Associated Press.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 20.—A fossilized ox, helped by scientists to be relic of the pre-glacial ages, has been unearthed by A. G. Shearer, plowing the top of a hill at Pope, Manitoba.

Dr. R. C. Wallace, professor of geology at the University at Manitoba, stated that, in all probability, "Shearer struck a rock, carried by the ice of the last glacial age and belonging to a period millions of years earlier than the ice age, as there is now neither river nor lake near Pope.

Forward Pass After Criss-cross Seldom Fails in Results

This play can be used to advantage immediately after the crisscross, attacking the weak side. Play No. 5, of this series. This play is popular with many coaches and deserves so because it has given great results. It is hardly necessary to explain that some of the best known plays are also the most successful. The fact that they are well known does not make them any easier to stop.

This play in the beginning should appear exactly like Play No. 5.

Two linemen on the right come back to protect the passer.

The right end cuts to the right before cutting back into the field to receive the pass, or the pass may go to the fullback, who gets just ahead of the charging defense, or the passer may turn and throw to the quarter, who has continued on out to the right.

It may be well here to discuss the necessity of a signal to notify the receiver of a forward pass and other members of the team of the direction he is to take. The thrower must know where to locate this receiver and the other men must know where to follow the ball and how to protect the thrower and also the play if the pass is intercepted.

There are two good methods of attempting to complete the forward pass play: in the first, the signal designated the approximate distance and direction of the receiver. The ball is thrown ahead and to the outside of the receiver at a moment when the thrower thinks the receiver can make a successful catch; in the second, the signal designated a limited zone toward which the receiver runs and in which he attempts to catch the ball. The thrower fixes his attention on that one and may actually throw before he sees the receiver. In the first method, the ball is thrown to the man in the second into a zone.

IMPROVEMENT OF KITCHENS URGED

State Wide Campaign for "Wife Saving" Put on by Extension Division

By Associated Press.

PADUCAH, Ky., Oct. 19.—Wife-saving kitchens is the goal of a state-wide contest lasting for six months that will be launched Jan. 5, 1924, by the extension division of the College of Agriculture, according to an announcement received here from Miss Mary May Miller, Lexington, home economics specialist, who will have charge of the work.

Enrollment in the contest will get under way immediately and women entering their kitchens will fill out blanks giving list of all furnishings and equipment, a floor plan, drawn to scale, showing the arrangement of doors, windows and equipment and pictures of the unimproved kitchen. The kitchen then will be scored by Miss Miller or her assistants and the work for improvements started.

Those enrolling in the contest will have a chance to enter their kitchens in any one of three different groups into which the contest has been divided. The first group will be for kitchens that show the greatest improvement, the second for those that show the greatest improvement for the money spent, and the third for those that show the greatest improvement without the use of cash.

When the final scoring is made of the kitchens the contestants will give a list of all new equipment and changes with their cost, a new floor plan showing the improved arrangement of windows, doors and equipment, and or more pictures of the improved kitchen.

Kitchens scoring highest in the various counties will be scored for the state prizes and those scoring highest in the three divisions of the contest will get the state awards which will include a kitchen cabinet, steam cooker, set of cake pans, freezers and about half a dozen other prizes.

"For some time the extension division has been doing work designed to lighten the duties of farm housewives in the kitchen, but this is the first time that a state-wide contest for better kitchens has been put on," Miss Miller said. Hundreds of kitchens throughout the state are expected to be made more healthful, cheerful and convenient as a result of the contest.

NEW POWER PLANT TO ELECTRIFY SWISS RAILROADS

By Associated Press.

GENEVA, Oct. 20.—A new water power plant is being constructed in the Alps at an altitude of 6,233 feet near Martigny, Canton of Valais, for the purpose of supplying electric energy to the Swiss federal railways. A dam is being built across the Barthelemy cascade, whose waters flow into the River Rhone, to form an artificial lake of 40,000,000 cubic metres. The cost of the dam will be 20,000,000 Swiss francs, but with the electric installation the amount will be run over 60,000,000 francs. A total energy of 60,000 horsepower will be supplied. The work will be finished in 1926. It goes forward slowly, for at this high altitude the cold and the snow permit of only 190 working days a year.

Tough If You're Princess In Bolshevik Russia

PRINCESS GORCHAKOVA

MOSCOW, Oct. 20.—Even the proletariat of old Russia has had mighty tough shelling in these days of famine.

But think of the surviving remnants of the nobility of Nicholas' day. Under the regime of Lenin and Trotzky, they've suffered worse than death.

Take Princess Gorchakova, for instance. Her mother was shot at the beginning of the Bolshevik revolution in 1917, and her father, who had at different periods ruled over the provinces of Kaluga and Viatka, was imprisoned. Kameneff had spared his life only because of a favor Princess Gorchakova once had done for him.

Then the princess, who had married a surgeon named Nikitina when she was 16, lost her two children. Lack of food and medicine resulted in their deaths.

And when Henry C. Wolfe, recently returned to America from work with the American Relief Administration, saw her a year ago in the village of Melekes in the Smara province, the princess had not tasted white bread for four years. She had forgotten what bacon tasted like.

She and her husband were existing on a small allowance of black bread and dried fish, given in return for Nikitina's services as a surveyor for the soviet.

The Relief Administration couldn't assist her because of her husband's work for the Bolsheviks. But former Governor Goodrich of Indiana contributed a special fund for the alleviation of the sufferings of former intelligentsia. Wolfe, in Melekes, received 15 food packages. One was turned over to the princess.

As long as she remains just plain Madam Nikitina, the princess' safety from the hands of the soviet is assured. Let her revert to her royal rank and it will be a different story.

LESSON FOR OCTOBER 21

ISRAEL IN THE MIDST OF THE NATIONS

LESSON TEXT—Josh. 1:1-4; Isa. 2:2-4; Isa. 19:23-25; Ezek. 5:5.
GOLDEN TEXT—"Look unto me and be ye saved all the ends of the earth."
—Isa. 45:22

PRIMARY TOPIC—The Beautiful Land of Israel

JUNIOR TOPIC—The Land God Chose for His People

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Israel in the Midst of the Nations
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Strategic Position of Palestine

1. Israel's Geographical Position (Josh. 1:1-4; cf. Ezek. 5:5).

Israel, God's chosen and most favored nation, the nation to whom He came nearest and gave most in order that it might pass on His goodness to the other nations of the world, was given a most strategic position in the earth. "Palestine was adapted as no other country for God's great purpose of preparing a pure religion and sending it to all the world. To this end a single nation was selected, trained and placed in the center of the world, so that when the time came to publish the true religion all lands could be reached. Palestine was central and isolated, yet accessible, for when the time came for the apostles to go from Palestine by the Mediterranean sea to the lands round about it, and from there to other lands, their way was open."

1. Their Leader (Josh. 1:1). Joshua was Moses' assistant. He led the Israelites to victory over the Amalekites soon after their escape from Egypt. He was with Moses in the Mount when the law was given. He was one of the spies sent into the land of Canaan. When Moses knew that his time of departure was nigh he appointed Joshua his successor.

2. Condition of the Possession of the Land (v. 3). The land was theirs by God's promise, but it became theirs only as their feet advanced to take possession of it. Because of their lack of faith, courage and obedience they never enjoyed the full possession of it. Christians today lack the riches of the Heavenly Father's blessings because of their want of faith and courage.

3. Its Boundaries (v. 4). On the north it was bounded by the rugged mountains of Lebanon; on the east by the Euphrates river; on the south by the "great and terrible" desert, a barren region through which the children of Israel had wandered for forty years; and on the west by the Mediterranean sea. It included all of Mesopotamia. Israel's lack of faith prevented them from possessing fully this land.

II. Israel's Spiritual and National Position (Isa. 2:2-4; 19:23-25). This pictures the place of influence which shall be exercised by Israel in a future time.

1. When It Shall Be (v. 2)—"In the last days." By "last days" is usually meant in Scripture the times of the Messiah, for this is the primary subject of all prophecy.

2. What It Shall Be (v. 2). The restoration of the kingdom of Judah to the place of pre-eminence among the nations of the world. "Mountains" in Scripture symbolizes "kingdom" (see Dan. 2:35; Rev. 13:1, 17:11). This vision of Zion's glory refers to the millennial age, at which time other nations of the world will learn of the true God through the chosen nation.

3. The Result of (vv. 2-4). The return of God's favor to this chosen people shall be "life from the dead." To the nations of the earth (Rom. 11:15).

(1) Nations shall flow unto it (v. 2). This pictures the masses of the people moving toward Jerusalem like streams from all parts of the earth. (2) Nations encouraging each other (v. 3). All jealousies are now taken from nations, and with good will to each other they are moving to Jerusalem, the world's capitol. They are going there to be taught of God the right ways to walk. They go to be instructed out of His holy Word. There is but one way to peace in the world, that is, back to God through His holy Scriptures.

(3) Peace in the earth (v. 4). When Israel shall be in her God-appointed place with Jesus Christ as king, then war will be over. The implements of war will then be destroyed. (4) Friendly communication (Isa. 19:23-25). As soon as wickedness is taken from men's hearts they will establish means of friendly communication.

Good Tidings.
How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings—Isa. 52:7.

Holy Scripture.
Holy Scripture is a stream of running water, where alike the elephant may swim, and the lamb walk without losing its feet.—Gregory the Great.

Cultivated Countries.
Countries are well cultivated, not as they are fertile, but as they are free.—Montesquieu.

Worship.
Be not so bigoted to any custom as to worship it at the expense of truth.—Zimmerman.

F. H. Kitchen left this morning for Knoxville to attend the Georgia-Tennessee football game.

Where a Warm Welcome Awaits You

First Presbyterian Church

RUTHERFORD E. DOUGLAS, Pastor

ELEVEN O'CLOCK

The morning theme will be: "Pitching One's Tent Toward Sodom."

Lot lived in a distant land and at an early period in the history of the world—but his successors in the twentieth century are numerous.

Have you ever seriously thought whether or not you are one of these and making the mistake he made? Read the story. Come! Hear it discussed.

SEVEN-THIRTY O'CLOCK

The memorable words of Agrippa: "Almost Thou Persuadedst Me to Be a Christian," is the text. If you are not a Christian yet, what does almost mean in your case?

Did it ever occur to you that almost persuaded has proved in many cases the most hazardous position that one can occupy? That almost saved is wholly lost. Plain gospel preaching and a welcome for all who come.
